Easter message from Fr Simon

Dear Parishioners,

As we walk with Gospel of Luke this year, we find women at the open tomb, greeted by angels. Long before angels had also proclaimed the Saviour's birth. What were they now proclaiming in their words: "Why look among the dead for someone who is alive?" The women could hardly believe it. Just as we might wonder how could it be 20 years since the reunification of our Parish and 40 years since our Church arrived? The Risen Lord is still living, as the Body of Christ, here among us, around us, and in us.

Thank you all for the welcome you have given Fr Mark and I since we arrived here, patiently helping us find our feet among you. An especial thanks goes to those who have carried us through Holy Week and the Easter Triduum, from those up front, to those who keep our space lovingly clean. When St Paul taught of the Body of Christ among the people of Corinth, we sense a real community, with real struggles and joys, just like our own. A community of love that has been tested in the living and dying of Christ among you for many years. In this Jubilee Year of Hope what signs of hope you are! May you have a blessed time with loved ones, whether reading from here, or online as you holiday.

Fr Simon
